COURAGEOUS CONVERSATIONS

Led by Dr. Lisa Yiu, this session is focused on how to have "courageous conversations" in the academic university setting (as teachers, as students), and also in our personal lives, that help us speak across social, political, and ideological divides.

We will explore the following questions: How can we truly connect with those who hold such different views than our own? How can we be the ones to build bridges of communication and trust across societal divides, as we seek to better our societies for future generations?
